REPORTS.

I.

MEMOIRS.

Rev. JOHN SATCHELL MARTIN, D. D.

Rev. John Satchell Martin, D. D., was born in Alexandria, Virginia, September 7, 1815, and died in Baltimore, Maryland, July 8, 1888. His father, Thomas L. Martin, born in Northampton County, Virginia, was of Scottish descent. His mother, the daughter of Robert Lamphier, was of a Huguenot family, which fled first to England and found finally a home in Maryland and Virginia. His parents were Methodists, and from the cradle, instilled into his heart and life the principles and doctrines which he so fully espoused and earnestly advocated, through a large and eventful history. From childhood, Dr. Martin enjoyed the educational advantages which the schools of his native city furnished. His scholastic training was completed by Benjamin Hallowell, under whose tutorship he spent the last four years of his school life. He was converted to God in August, 1832, when sixteen years of age. He was licensed as local preacher at the early age of nineteen, just 54 years to the day, and in all possibility to the hour, beforchis death.

He was received on trial into the Baltimore Annual Conference, March, 1835, when he was appointed junior preacher to Lexington Circuit, and again in 1836. In 1837, he was sent to Staunton Station: in 1838, to the Botetourt Circuit, which at that time embraced twenty-eight preaching places.

In the month of February of the same year, Dr. Martin was married to Miss Susan P. Ruff, of Rockbridge County, Virginia, who survives him. For fifty years they shared each other's joys and sorrows. Four of their children preceded our departed brother to the Heavenly City. Those remaining, six in number, "are on the way." The only surviving son, Rev. Asbury R. Martin, is a member of this body.

In 1840, Dr. Martin was appointed to Lewistown, in Pennsylvania; in 1841, to the Lewisburg Circuit, which at this time embraced the whole of Greenbrier County. In 1842, he was assigned to Winchester Circuit; 1843, to Front Royal Circuit; 1844, to Baltimore City Station, where he had as fellow-laborers, William Hamilton, Joseph Merriken and Thomas Sewall; 1845-46, to Leesburg Station; 1847-48, to North Baltimore Station, with John Bear, C. B. Tippett, Ezra F. Busey and William Taylor, as colleagues; 1849-50, East Baltimore Station; 1851, Jefferson Circuit; 1852-53, Winchester Station. The Market Street Church in that city is the monument of his success in that pastorate. In 1854, he was appointed to Loudoun Circuit; 1855-56, to Exeter Station, in Baltimore; 1857, to Fayette Street. In 1858, he was made presiding elder of the Roanoke District. In 1860-61, he was sent to Charles Street Station, Baltimore. The latter part of 1861, Dr. Martin left Baltimore for Virginia, where he served throughout the years of the late war.

During 1862, he preached in Lexington and throughout Rockbridge County. In 1863-64-65, he preached on Lexington District, with ten pastoral charges, extending from Botetourt County to Monterey in Highland. During this period of abundant and self-sacrificing labor, he found it necessary to supplement the meager support that was provided by a suffering church.

At the close of the war, "he participated in the good work" by which the Lexington Station of the Virginia and Baltimore Conferences were consolidated. In October, 1865, Dr. Martin went to Baltimore to open Eutaw Hall, as a place of worship, for Central Station—Rev. W. J. Perry was then its pastor. Both pastors and officiary urgently requested him to take charge of the newly domiciled church, but this call was not answered by reason of one, which was deeper and louder—that was the call which came from the impoverished churches near Lexington. He remembered "his more distressed brethren" in Virginia. In February, 1866, at that memorable Session of the Conference which convened in Alexandria, true to the principles he had so courageously espoused and advocated on the Conference floor in 1861, Dr. Martin stood in front with his brethren, who, like himself, were willing to do, dare and suffer for what they believed to be the right. Without the promise of earthly ease or emolument, he, together with the heroic band, whose hearts beat in sympathy with his, formally entered the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

How striking the coincidence! Here, in the same city, in the same church, where twenty-three years ago our beloved brother displayed the heroism and the might of christian manhood, we memorialize his fidelity to every vow. What memories rush upon the hearts of some this hour. The past rises up like an angel with golden censer, filled with precious odors, that shed upon us fragrant memory, who stand as crowned victors before the throne. At that session of the Conference, so full of historic significance to us, Dr. Martin was made Presiding Elder of the Washington District. The territory of that district had been sadly devastated by the march of contending armies. The church had been greatly reduced, but under the blessing of God, it grew and expanded, so that, at the expiration of four years, a district that had embraced seven charges, had increased to twenty. In 1870, Dr. Martin was appointed to the Baltimore District, where he served four years-1874, to the Rockinghom District, and in 1875 to Stannton Station, where he spent four years of notable prosperity. In 1879, he was again appointed Presiding Elder of the Rockingham District, where he remained four years. Three years were then spent in Winchester Station, and two subsequently as Presiding Elder of the Winchester District.

In March, 1888, he was appointed to St. Paul's, in Baltimore City, when he was called from work to rest—from labor to reward. Dr. Martin filled every position a Methodist preacher could fill, from a Circuit, with twenty-eight appointments, to the pastorate of a small station; and from the presiding-eldership to the exacting work of a large city charge.

He was Secretary of his Conference from 1853 to the date of his death.

He was a model Secretary, and the committee of the General Conference on itinerancy pronounced his journals perfect. For 35 years he stood before his brethren of the Baltimore Conference as the ready penman of its proceedings, as the walking cyclopædia of its dates and chronicles. To-day, how we miss him! Our hearts can but give a universal response to the plaintive lines of the poet:

"O, for the touch of a vanished hand, And the sound of a voice that is still,"

No—not still—it mingles this hour with voices that swell glad hosannas unto God and the Lamb.

Dr. Martin was first sent as a delegate to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which convened in Indianapolis, May, 1856. In 1860 he was honored with the same trust by his brethren. Subsequent to this period we find him a member of all sessions of the General Conference of the Church South.

In 1884, when Dr. Summers, Secretary of the Conference, fell at his post, Dr. Martin was promptly chosen to fill the vacant office, and again at Richmond in 1886. He was chosen Secretary of the Great Methodist Centenary, and his journal is to be placed in the American Historical Society.

Dr. Martin was a man of striking physique. In structure, he combined a happy mould of simplicity and nobility. At 73 years of age his appearance was that of a man in his prime. Time had not plowed deep furrows in his face. The frosts of more than seventy winters had not whitened the raven locks of early manhood. "His eye was not dim, nor his natural force abated." Bone and blood, nerve-force and vitality, strength and elasticity, all-seem to have been given—providentially given—in full measure, with reference to constant and massive work.

Dr. Martin's remarkable physique had its higher correspondence in character. He combined strength and tenderness, courage with prudence, lofty aim with humility, self-assertion with modesty, gravity with geniality and the wisdom of the serpent with the harmlessness of the dove. He appreciated commendation, but despised flattery. As a friend he was firm and sympathetic, as a counsellor, wise and discreet. In his family, if he was not as demonstrative as some; he bestowed upon wife and children a deep and abiding affection. If it did not gush like a spring from some mountain rock, yet it moved with the steady flow and majesty of a river. But as the crown of all, Dr. Martin was a man of profound piety. It was the life hid with Christ in God that gave such prominence to the traits of which we have spoken. Dwelling much in the mount with God, the light of holy communion imparted to his character a beauty and a lustre that shone "more and more unto the perfect day." In youth he heeded the mandate: "Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not nor the years draw nigh when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them; while the sun, or the light, or the moon or the stars be not darkened, nor the clouds return after the And when life's evening shadows fell around him, they were radiant with the promise: "And the Lord shall be unto thee an everlasting Light and thy God thy glory."

This tribute to departed worth would not be complete without gathering up some of the essential factors that entered into an eminently successful ministry of more than half a century. Dr. Martin was a man of culture. He was a constant student. He entered the itinerancy with a well-disciplined mind. His education, thus begun, was carried forward by reading and thought. On his first Circuits, conveniences were few, yet he found time and opportunity for study. He read theology. He gave attention to general literature, and especially to history. Above all, he was a devout and prayerful student of the Holy Scriptures. Thus he brought forth from his treasures, things new and old.

Dr. Martin was a close observer. He studied human nature in all its aspects. This contributed in no small degree, to the force and efficiency of his pulpit ministration, and also enabled him "to adjust himself to his brethren."

He was systematic. He thus so multiplied his power, that he has been well designated as "hundred-handed and argus-eyed."

He moved with the precision of a military chieftain, and ever bore himself as a conqueror "rushing on to victory." In his pastoral work, he was faithful, methodical and impartial. Visiting from home to home, he distributed the influence of a godly life, and gathered up fresh resources with which he enriched his ministry.

He was an organizer. He could touch centers and marshal forces. This gave him peculiar power in the pastorate, and fitted him pre-eminently for the presiding eldership, an office which he filled with marked and proverbial ability.

To his culture, to his knowledge of human nature, to his methodic habits, pastoral fidelity, and almost marvelous facilities as an organizer, we should not forget to add, that Dr. Martin was eminently a preacher of the Gospel. The pulpit was his throne. He did not waste his forces in discussing questions irrelevant to the dignity of his high and holy calling. He preached the "glorious Gospel of the Blessed God," with an elocution that made a voice of rare sweetness and compass, the instrument of a glowing, fervent spirit; he commanded the attention and stirred the hearts of men, soothed the sorrowing and encouraged the weak, aroused the apathetic and startled the death-like silence of slumbering conscience. With a consuming zeal he preached "Christ and Him crucified."

His preaching was with power and in demonstration of the Spirit, clothed with salvation as a garment; blessed with an experience that lived and delighted in close and constant communion with God, he preached as one "baptized with fire and the Holy Ghost." With such elements as these, the ministry of Dr. Martin was fruitful in results. Sinners were convicted and converted, believers were strengthened, and "the pleasure of the Lord" prospered "in his hand."

"As a sower," he "went forth to sow." As a reaper, he put in his sickle and reaped. Oh! the thousands that have been saved through his ministry, the light of eternity can alone reveal. He entered upon his work at St. Paul's, with tireless activity and burning enthusiasm. The man of more than three-score years and ten, seemed to renew his youth. He mounted up as on eagles' wings. He preached as if his tongue had been touched by a live-coal from the altar of the skies. His congregation increased. New hopes inspired his people. But the rude hand of disease laid him low. Through nearly seven weeks he suffered torturing pain. Amid it all his faith was unshaken, and his hope unclouded. He illustrated "the patience of the saints." Suffering he entered into a richer fellowship with Christ. When asked by his wife if he felt the Savior precious, he immediately responded, "he is precious." When asked, "do you feel that underneath you are the everlasting arms"? with the ring of assurance in his voice, he replied, "underneath me are the everlasting arms." In his delirious moments, he talked as if he were in the council of his brethren or in open session of Conference, calling the roll or counting the vote. Conscious or unconscious, the work that had filled his hands and his heart, was the one absorbing theme of his mind. On the evening of July 8, 1834, he wrote in his diary, "this evening I have begun to discharge the duty that my God and my church have placed upon me. On Sunday evening, July 8, 1888, amid the silvery chimes that pealed from the city ehurch towers, the spirit of our lamented brother, "quit this low abode, ascended to the Heavenly City, and was welcomed by the King's trumpeters to the Sabbath of eternal rest and praise. His funeral obsequies were conducted in St. Paul's Church. Appropriate addresses were delivered by Bishop Wilson, brothers Rodgers, Armstrong and Whisner. The body was conveyed to Loudoun Park Cemetery, where it sleeps "in couch magnificent," until Christ "shall come to be glorified in his saints and admired in all them that believed." Thus ended the life and work of the Rev. John Satchell Martin, D. D., who shone as a star of the first magnitude in the galaxy of American Methodism. No, not ended.

"The star that sits

Behind the western wave is not extinct;
It brightens in another hemisphere

And gilds another evening with its rays,
Oh, glorious hope of immortality."

JAMES BEATY.

To the number of those who "have fought a good fight," who "have finished their course and have kept the faith," who have borne the cross and have received the crown, we come to add the name of that man of God, James Beaty, who died at Moorefield, W. Va., April 18th, 1888,

He was the son of Silas and Frances Beaty, and was born in Loudon County, Virginia, on the first day of April, 1827. Of his early life we know but little. He was converted in the year 1847, and entered the Ministry in the year 1850, at the session of the Baltimore Conference held at Alexandria, Virginia, Bishop Morris presiding. He was sent that year as junior preacher on Trough Creek Circuit, Cumberland District, with Zane Bland, preacher in charge.

In 1851 he served Newport Circuit, Huntingdon District, with Oliver Ege, preacher in charge.

In 1852, as junior, with W. G. Eggleston as senior, he served Jefferson Circuit.

In 1853, with John W. Start as his colleague, he served as junior on Moorefield Circuit.

In 1854 he was happily married to Miss Kate, daughter of Dr. J. K. and Mary Chambers, of Hardy County, Virginia.

In 1854-5 he was at Keyser; 56-57, at Luray; 1858, Fairfield; 59-60, Franklin; 61-2, Crab-bottom; 63-66, Moorefield; 67-68, South Branch; 69-72, Springfield; 73-75, Flintstone.

In 1876, being in feeble health, he was granted a Supernumerary Relation, and located in Moorefield, where he resided until the Master called him away from earth—away from its trials and cares.

Brother Beaty was a preacher of the Gospel.

He believed, therefore he spake. He was neither ashamed of the Gospel of Christ nor of the doctrine of his Church. He was a faithful exponent of both.

With a rich experience, a consciousness of sins forgiven, and of God's presence with him, he preached, by precept and example, experimental religion. He preached that man is a sinner, that Christ is his Saviour—Christ crucified, risen and ascended, as the sinner's only hope of deliverance from the wrath to come. In his preaching he had ever in view the great object and end of Christianity—the salvation of souls; and he aimed not merely to reach the head, but to touch the heart of his hearer.

He expected immediate results to follow his preaching. Nor was he disappointed; his active ministry was marked by considerable revival influence. We have spoken of his active ministry, but during the twelve years that elapsed between the time of his location and his death, Brother Beaty was not idle. He preached fully as much as his strength would allow, often "going out into the by-ways and hedges;" and thus the poor had the Gospel preached unto them. Among all classes of people he made friends and kept them; and few men have lived more highly honored, or have died more deeply lamented.

His name is as precious ointment poured forth in the entire community in which he lived; and because of his christian influence, demonstrated by so many acts of kindness and love and self-sacrifice, that name is indelibly imprinted upon many minds, and lives in many hearts.

His whole life is compassed by this fitting tribute paid to his memory, before a large concourse of friends at his funeral, by his Presiding Elder, who had also for four years been his pastor and most intimate friend: "I have known many good men, but have known no purer man than James Beaty. I unhesitatingly pronounce him one of the very best men I ever knew." Haying this record of his life, need we ask how he died? He died as he lived, praising God, and demonstrating in death the truth he so faithfully and forcibly preached in life, God with us always, in the bright noon-day of life, in "the dark valley of the shadow of death." His last days were days of great peace and triumph of soul. On Monday evening before his death, like Job, who, when speaking of the grave, declared, "there the weary be at rest," he said he expected to reach his heavenly rest that night, or at farthest by seven o'clock the next morning. In somewhat disappointed tones he said on Tuesday, "I did not get off to my heavenly home as I expected." When asked by his son-in-law, Brother Griffith, if the Lord was with him, he replied feelingly and emphatically, "yes indeed, yes indeed, He has been with me through life and He is with me now." He spoke of the near prospect of Heaven; and as glimpses of the New Jerusalem seemed to break upon his vision, he exclaimed "How sweet! How sweet!"

To his faithful companion through the cares, as well as the joys of life, he said: "The material world is bright this morning, but the immaterial is brighter."

To his family he said: "I have tried to serve you and the church which is paramount, but now my work is ended, and the Lord will take care of you." He needed to give them no exhortation at the close of a life which, in the home, conformed with the life in the pulpit. When one of the family said, "we will try to follow you as you followed Christ," he said "yes, yes." As the end drew near he said, "the weary wheels of life will soon stand still."

Then this "Father in Israel" had the family to assemble around his bed for family worship. With his dying benediction he commended them to God, with the assurance that he would soon enter his heavenly rest; and shortly after, on the morning of Wednesday, April 18th, at 10.30 o'clock, "the weary wheels stood still," and he calmly and peacefully fell asleep in Jesus.

On Thursday, April 19th, in the M. E. Church, South, in Moorefield, in the presence of a large congregation of relatives and friends, Rev. J. P. Stump preached the funeral sermon from Phillippians, 1-21—"For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain." Rev. T. G. Nevitt participated in the services, and spoke of Brother Beaty as a man of God, whose companionship he had found profitable. Rev. S. G. Ferguson, P. E., and former pastor, also attested in the most expressive terms, the pure and useful life of the deceased.

His remains were carried to their resting place in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, by members of the class of which for years he had been the faithful and beloved leader. A host of friends, together with his widow and four children, mourn their loss. Our loss, but his gain, for, "for him to die was gain."

Rev. WILLIAM R. STRINGER.

Rev. William R. Stringer was born in Alleghany County, Virginia, near Sweet Sulphur, November 10th, 1834, and died November 15, 1888. He was the son of John and Lucy Stringer.

He was soundly converted to God at a camp meeting held in his native county, near Fletcher Chapel, August 31st, 1852, and was received into the church by baptism, September 11th of the same year. His parents had been converted and received into the church only a couple of years before. They had, however, watched over the morals of their son with jealous care. He did not fall a victim to any of the forms of wickedness so common to young men. The frivolities of the world did not enchant him, nor its vices enslave him. Thus he was similar to the young man in the Gospel, but different in this—he yielded his all to Christ and followed him. Within a short period after his conversion, he felt called of the Spirit to the work and office of the Christian Ministry.

He was received on trial into the Baltimore Annual Conference in March, 1855. That session of the Conference was held in Baltimore, in the old Light Street Church, so full of historic interest to the whole family of American Methodism. At that Conference, Brother Stringer was sent to the Monroe Circuit, and also in 1856, as junior preacher with Rev. A. Burhman In 1856–57, he was appointed to the Covington Circuit; 1857–58, he travelled the Fincastle Circuit, where he was married to Miss Sallie V. Arnold—a union which proved most happy until the time of her decease. In 1858–59, he was appointed to Christiansburg as the colleague of Rev. Isaac Gibson; in 1859–60, as the preacher in charge of Crab Bottom Circuit; in 1860–61, to the same charge; in 1861–62–63, to Mount Sydney; 1863–64, to West Augusta Circuit; 1864–65–66 to Fairfield; 1866–67, to Waynesboro; 1868–69–70, to New Market. In 1871, he was granted a supernumerary relation, and retained that relation until the Conference Session of 1876, when he was appointed to

The year previous to his appoint-Linganore, where he remained four years. ment to that charge, Brother Stringer had been united in the bonds of Holy Matrimony to Miss Roberta F. Kemp, his second wife, who entered cordially into the spirit of his work amongst that people. At the expiration of his pastorate on Linganore, he was sent to Dranesville, where he remained one year. In 1880-82, he was appointed to Hillsboro; from 1882 to 1886, he travelled Taylor Circuit. Towards the close of his pastorate on that charge, he felt that his health was in an exceedingly precarious condition. Temporarily, he seemed to grow somewhat better; instead of retiring from the active work as he had contemplated he went to the Conference, nerving himself with the hope of further work and usefulness, when he was appointed to Gainesville, and again in 1887. Here, as on Taylor Circuit, he found his strength failing him. In addition to chronic troubles to which he had been subject for years, he was attacked by a violent form of rheumatism. under medical advice, he went to the Berkeley Springs, with the hope of recuperating his strength. While his visit to that health resort gave him much needed rest, yet his general health was but little benefited. At the ensuing Conference, he was granted a superannuated relation. "In manhood's middle day," this faithful itinerant settled in his new home, near Reisterstown, Maryland, never again to move, until the summons came for him "to gather up his feet and depart in peace," to that better land above. And soon the summons came.

Brother Stringer was not a man of massive mould. Although slight in frame, delicate in constitution, yet he had great powers of endurance. He had a will that clung to life with a tenacious grasp. In form, face, bearing and attire, he unconsciously illustrated the refined and delicate instincts of a christian gentleman. He was a man of deep piety. He was a man of clean hands and a pure heart. His character was marked by cheerfulness, gentleness and humility. His life was a practical comment upon the apostolic declaration. "Godliness with contentment is great gain." Intrigue was foreign to his every movement. His lips were free from guile. In motive he was sincere, in judgment, charitable. He was "a lover of good men and given to hospitality." Upon hearth and home he shed the light and warmth of endearing As a preacher, Brother Stringer, was clear, practical and scriptural. He was a faithful pastor. He visited his people, entered into their joys and sympathized with them in their sorrows. His was not a barren ministry, and "in the day of Christ's rejoicing," his crown will not be starless. The closing scenes of his life were radiant with the light of future triumph. "The joy of the Lord" was the strength of his soul. He gave constant testimony to the hope that sustained him. "The peace of God" kept "his heart and mind." At times he became exultant, and praised the God of his salvation. Appropriate funeral services were held in the church at Reisterstown—Drs. Rodgers and Whisner officiating. Brethren of his Conference conveyed the remains of our deceased brother to their last resting place, where they shall be guarded by the angel of immortality, until "the trumpet shall sound and the dead shall be raised incorruptible." Brother Stringer leaves a wife and three sons, and also a daughter of 17 summers, by his first union in marriage—to mourn their loss.

BISHOP HOLLAND NIMMONS McTYEIRE.

Bishop Holland Nimmons McTyeire, was born in Barnwell District, South Carolina, July 25, 1824, and died at 9 o'clock on the morning of February 15, 1889.

This brief mention does not fitly represent the love, the reverence and the admiration which the Baltimore Conference had for our late Chief Pastor; and indeed, many words would be all too feeble to express what we feel.

We remember with gratitude to God, his uniform and unostentatious godliness.

If his religious experience and life were characterized by less emotion than is seen in others, there was full compensation in his uniform movement on the line of righteousness.

He was a man of affairs; one who knew what Israel ought to do. Perhaps no man of the church saw more clearly its needs; there were none who could devise more wisely the means whereby important ends were to be secured. He was eminently a capable man. His rare natural gifts had been sedulously improved by reading, observation, contact with men, and by the responsibilities which were placed upon him throughout his life.

The force and excellence of his character were duly recognized by those who knew him in public only; but there were in him a tenderness and beauty, which was revealed only in the more intimate relations of personal friendship. Some may have supposed that the seemingly immobile, self-contained man, neither cared for nor needed the sympathy of his brethren. In fact he desired their love, needed their appreciation, and was as easily and as deeply wounded as other men, by unkindness of speech or deed.

He promptly responded to all tokens of good will, and was glad when he could take a brother to his heart.

He had a singular power of self-repression when misunderstood or antagonized, answering not again; he bore himself calmly, having faith that what was not understood in the now would be made plain in the after time.

We are glad that he did not seek to lay up treasure on earth. It was one of his chief pleasures to open his purse to relieve the wants of the poor, and to contribute to the furtherance of the kingdom of his Lord.

If there were any in any place who did not while he was among us know his worth, we must believe that now at length they must begin to learn the greatness of their loss. We offer our christian sympathy to his bereaved family; we pray that God, who buries the workmen, will carry forward His work; we thank God that his end was "peace."

II.

REPORT OF SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD.

The first organizations that bore the name of Sunday Schools were quite limited in their scope and design, but the honor of inaugurating a great movement belongs to those who originated them.

Upon the original system such changes have been wrought, such improvements grafted, that there remains but little in common to the schools of Raikes and the Sunday schools of the present day, except the name.

The highest development of the Sunday school idea is, "That the Sunday School is the whole church met together to study and teach God's word, and to do work for Christ."

Its scope has not only been so enlarged as to embrace all persons, its aim so elevated as to seek to impart such instruction as to bring those receiving it to a knowledge of Christ as a personal Savior, but it commends itself to us also in the fact that it has become a field in which all can be employed—furnished also with something to do for the Master, and Christian people, who would otherwise be idle, by employment in the schools, are blessed themselves by becoming a blessing to others.

It should be our aim to keep abreast with others who are at the front in this great cause, so as to derive the largest measure of blessing from it.

Our Conference, as to increase of schools and scholars, the proportion of scholars to the membership of the Church, and in other matters, has led, and still leads, the van in our own church. The statistics of this Conference year show that there is no waning of interest. There has been an increase of officers and teachers, 18; scholars, 334.

Our aim, however, is not mere increase of numbers, we want to bring our schools to the highest degree of efficiency, and therefore exhort to increased effort all along the line.

THE PASTOR AND THE SCHOOL.

The preacher can do much. He is the pastor of the children as well as the adults. The Sunday school furnishes him with rare opportunities for communicating with the youth of his charge, and he cannot only make use of the schools for giving "pastoral instruction to the children," but can often avail himself of their help in carrying out his plans, while to neglect the schools is to miss the golden opportunities of his ministerial life.

PARENTS AND THE SCHOOL.

There should be a close alliance between the home and the school. To the parent belongs the responsibility of the religious training of the child, but the school is an invaluable helper to the religious parent, and there should be a bond of sympathy between the parent and the teacher, and the parent should at least encourage the teacher in his "work and labor of love" by superintending the children in the preparation of the lessons that are appointed by the church and furnished by the school.

THE TEACHER.

We need better teachers, those we now have can be improved by a more careful preparation for teaching. There are helps at hand in abundance, if the teacher will avail himself of them. Many of the best scholars in the church are enlisted in throwing light upon those portions of the scriptures that are used in the international lessons.

But one of the very best methods of preparation, and one that is in the reach of most of our schools is the Teachers' Meeting. Let the pastor, the superintendent, or some one selected for the purpose, become the teacher of the teachers, to some extent; but let each teacher be prepared to contribute somewhat to the common fund. Whenever at all practicable let teachers' meetings be organized.

ADULTS IN THE SCHOOL.

The school is for the children, but not for children only. The term used in the Discipline is "Persons," not children. The school should include persons of all ages, and of every stage of intellectual and spiritual development.

For several years past in many of our schools great effort has been made to secure the attendance of very small children, and the effort has been crowned with success. Let the same care be taken, a similar outlay be made suitable teachers provided, the place made attractive to the young men and women, and there will be an increase in the number of adults in attendance upon our schools.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Certain agencies have been employed by us that have not obtained in other Conferences, or were in use by us before their adoption by the General Conference, for the whole church.

The conventions of the Baltimore Conference Sunday School Society have been held for twenty-one consecutive years. They have been attended by a large number of preachers and laymen, and have been addressed on live topics, by the best available speakers; and many of these addresses, together with discussions as to the best methods of work, have been put into the hands of our people every year, and have done much to awaken interest and create enthusiasm in the Sunday school work. The Sunday School Board, feeling that these annual gatherings should continue: Resolved, That the Executive Committee of the Board be requested to co-operate with the Executive Committee of the Sunday School Society in 'making arrangements for the next Sunday School Convention, to be held in July, at Easton, Md.

HELP FOR NEEDY SCHOOLS.

In some localities in our conference territory the Sunday school cause has suffered for want of funds necessary to conduct the schools. To supply this need, collections were taken during the centennial year of Methodism. A fund was thus established for needy schools; by order of the succeeding General Conference this collection has been continued, and quite a number of schools have received help from this fund. There are schools reported to this Conference that probably owe their existence to timely aid from this source. Your Board has deemed it proper to so amend the foot-note appended to the application for relief as to make this fund applicable to a larger number of schools. This fund is designed to aid destitute Sunday schools, and for schools which can raise a part only of the amount needed for supplies, and is especially applicable to encourage the formation of new schools. Pastors and superintendents will state over their signatures the condition of schools applying for aid. The Board calls attention, in this connection, to the collection on Children's Day for needy Sunday schools, and express the hope that the Conference will not suffer this fund to be depleted.

Send amounts collected to F. V. Rhodes, treasurer.

MISSIONARY SOCIETIES.

Let the schools be formed into Missionary Societies. The children should be taught to give that they may "excel in this grace also." Give them such information concerning missions as that the cause may be near to their hearts from early childhood.

It is a subject of regret that from many schools the Bible seems to be banished, and only that part of the scriptures that the current lesson contains is to be found in the hands of the children. The Board urges that the children be furnished with Bibles, and be encouraged to have Bibles of their own to bring with them to school.

STUDY OF CATECHISM.

In establishing new methods, nothing that is of worth in the old should be omitted. The catechisms of the church should be in use in all our schools. Let schools supply themselves with the Wesleyan Catechism—Nos. 1 and 2—published at Nashville, for the use of the church.

Attendance upon public worship is of prime importance, and when children do not accompany their parents, teachers should be requested to take their classes with them to hear the preaching of the word of God.

T. J. Magruder, president; F. V. Rhodes, treasurer; Revs. G. H. Zimmerman and C. M. Brown, were elected an executive committee to distribute aid to needy schools.

BOOK AGENCY.

It was resolved that the Conference urgently request Rev. W. K. Boyle, D. D., to make arrangement, if practicable, in connection with the Episcopal Methodist, to establish an agency in the city of Baltimore for the supply of our schools and churches with the publications of our house at Nashville.

DEATH OF H. H. GARRIGUES.

We deem it proper in this report of the Board to pay a tribute to our esteemed brother, H. H. Garrigues, of Baltimore, former treasurer of this Board, who died during the year, and whose faithful services in the Sunday school work we will greatly miss. Brother Garrigues was a faithful worker in the Sunday school cause, notably in the care of the younger children, in which work he took so much delight, and in which he was very fruitful of good.

Respectfully submitted,

T. J. MAGRUDER, President.

B. F. BALL, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Wesleyan Female Institute.

This Institution is now fully under the control of the Baltimore Conference, through her Board of Trustees; and, under the new arrangement of the lease, gives promise of becoming, before many years, free from all embarrassment and debt.

It therefore, in every respect commends itself to our care and patronage as a Conference School, and we should, by our earnest support, aim to advance this Institution to its highest success. We are glad to notice from the annual report that, notwithstanding the difficulties in the way of increased patronage from the Southern States, owing to the yellow fever epidemic and other causes, yet, through the earnest and persevering efforts of the President, Dr. Wm. A. Harris, there was an increase of boarding pupils over last year.

In order to advance the Institution and give our daughters the highest educational advantages, we must exert ourselves in its behalf.

For the last 24 years, this School has struggled through many difficulties, and has greatly advanced the interest of christian education, and we heartily commend it to the prayers and patronage of our people.

We are glad to learn of the religious influence that is being exerted over the pupils, as nearly all of them are members of the Church.

The Financial Report of the past year shows an income of nearly $21,500—expenses, about $18,500.

Amount due the Board, of nearly $1,500, applied to debt and interest.

Randolph Macon College.

Appreciating the value of the work done by Randolph Macon College, we rejoice to be able to make a flattering report of its present condition.

Well known to us all is the devotedness to its welfare of the president and the professors.

These men who have so long worked there against great odds, are beginning now to share the benefit justly accruing to themselves and the Institutions from the favor and generosity of the public at large. They are especially encouraged by an attendance increased in two years from 109 to 194; by an increase of $25,000 in endowment fund; and by the assurance of a new Science Hall and the Academy at Liberty. The magnificient prospectus of the Academy has been laid before us by President Smith. The Science Hall is favorably noticed by the Visiting Committee, who, in addition, report that the improvements and advantages of the College are continually increasing. As of special interest to us, it may be said that there are now 64 ministerial students, 19 of whom are from within the bounds of the Baltimore Conference.

By what has been done we see what yet remains to be done as necessary and possible. The faculty has for the future development of the College a broad plan. They have in view local improvements, among them the building of homes for the professors. The purpose to double the endowment, to complete the Academy, and to make necessary local changes, can be accomplished—but only by our co-operation with their faithful endeavor. Seeing that the Institution is admittedly so deserving, and that its proper needs are so many, and that the Virginia Conference has so generously contributed to its new enterprises, and that moreover, the Baltimore Conference derives so much benefit from its instruction, we therefore hope that this session of our Conference will consider deeply and respond liberally to the appeal of President Smith.

We recommend the adoption of this resolution: Resolved, That the Baltimore Conference should raise $50,000 toward the endowment of the College, and at least $15,000 toward the erection of the Academy, and should continue through our Joint Board of Finance, the annual assessment of $2,000 for the benefit of the college.

The Valley Female College.

The Valley Female College, located in Winchester, Va., under the presidency of Dr. J. P. Hyde, continues to prosper, and deserves our commendation and patronage. It affords rare facilities for a thorough classical, as well as musical and literary education, and gives continued evidence of increasing usefulness.

The home life of this School, under the immediate direction and personal care of the excellent wife of the President, makes it especially desirable as a school and home for young ladies.

The Alleghany Collegiate Institute.

Your Board is favorably impressed with the new educational movement in the establishment of the Lewisburg District School at Alderson, W. Va. This School is designed to prepare both sexes for College. We think these High Schools, under the management of our Church, in each District, are greatly needed, and will become feeders to our higher Colleges

Most desirable grounds have been secured for the location of the Alleghany Collegiate Institute. Upon these grounds there now stand two handsome buildings, and a third in process of erection.

The present session, under the management of Prof. James C. Dolly, A. B., has met the most sanguine expectations of its friends. Fifty pupils have been enrolled; and the work of the session has been most prosperous.

We would heartily commend this School to the liberal patronage of our people.

Paine and Lane Institutes.

We learn with pleasure, from the report of the Commissioners, that the Paine Institute was never more prosperous than at this time.

The good fruit which it is bearing is the best proof of the wisdom of its establishment and management.

We are also pleased to learn of the success attending the Lane Institute, located at Jackson, Tenn. Bishop Keener recently appointed Rev. Thomas F. Sanders, of the Memphis Conference, in charge of this Institution.

The actual running expenses are stated to be $5,000, of which amount the Baltimore Conference is requested to raise $200.

Your Board, therefore, recommends that a collection be taken on each charge for this purpose as early as practicable, and that the amounts be forwarded to Rev. F. A. Strother, who will forward $200 of the amount to the Commissioners, and the balance, if any, to the Treasurer of the Board of Ministerial Education.

J. A. Anderson, Chairman.

GEO. R. HILL, Secretary.

\mathbf{V} .

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MINISTERIAL EDUCATION.

The board of Ministerial Education beg leave to make the following report: We have great great reason for thankfulness and encouragement in the work which the Conference has placed under our direction,

The amount received in subscriptions during the year in furtherance of the object of the Board, is $1,598.75, as follows:

Subscription	take	en at	last Conferen	nce Sessi	on		 $1	,300	00
66	66	66	Washington	District	Conferen	ice		175	00

Subscription	s giv	en a	t the present	Conferen	nce sessio	n		50	00
T	otal						@1	598	75

Of this amount, $1,093.75 has been paid, of which $790.25 has been expended in aid of ministerial students now at Randolph Macon College, leaving the sum of $303.50 now in hand. Subscriptions still unpaid, $505.

There are eight young men now receiving aid from the Board, and pursuing their studies at the College, none of whom could have had the advantages thus afforded them without such aid. They are men of good mind and character, and give promise of more than ordinary usefulness in the Christian Ministry.

It will cost from $350 to $400 to keep them at College till end of the session; and, provided all the substriptions are paid, there will then be left about $400 in the treasury.

All the young men now studying under the direction of the Board, ought to return to College next session. They are by no means well prepared for their great work, as teachers of the word of God and preachers of Christ's Gospel: In addition, there will probably be as many more applications for aid as have already been made to the Board; so that as far as we can now determine, not less than $2,000 will be necessary to our work for the ensuing year.

The duty assigned us by the Conference has not been an easy one, but we have taken pleasure in endeavoring to do it faithfully. We heartly believe in this work. It is very greatly needed, and promises incalculably good results. We, therefore, confidently expect of the whole Conference their earnest co-operation in heart and deed, in this work of the Lord. It is of Him, for Him, in Him, and it cannot be in vain.

WM. H. D. HARPER, President.

J. A. KERN, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF CHURCH EXTENSION.

It is cause for congratulation that, during the six years that the Conference Church Extension Board has been in operation, so much has been accomplished through its instrumentality in encouraging church-building among us, and in improving the architecture of our houses of worship. Yet it is to be regretted that the church has not yet risen to a full appreciation of the importance of this branch of our work. While the demands upon the Board for help are constantly increasing, the means for meeting these demands are not increasing in like proportion. The receipts of this year are sixty-nine dollars in excess of those of last, yet the aggregate is but $2,069; and as half this amount goes to the parent board, it leaves us with but little more than $1,000 to meet applications for aid amounting to $3,250. It is evident that we must either distribute among the several applicants amounts so small as to be of little practical benefit, or discriminate in favor of the most necessitous cases, and with reference to what has already been apportioned to certain localities and districts. This we have endeavored with conscientious care to do; and while we are aware that the duty is a delicate and difficult one, and is likely to expose the Board to unjust criticism and complaint, we are quite sure of having done "the best our circumstance allows." The remedy is to be found in an increase in the collections for this object, and we respectfully request the presiding elders and preachers in charge to bring the subject of church extension, in a special form, before their respective charges and District Conferences, and urge enlarged liberality in this behalf. Every part of our Conference territory has already shared in the benefits of this fund, and no money appropriated to church work promises a speedier or more remunerative return.

The following appropriations have been made this year: To Marvin Chapel, Linganore Circuit, Baltimore District, $100; to Mt. Pleasant Church, Montgomery Circuit, Baltimore District. an additional appropriation of $75; to Cox's Station Church, Church Hill and Stevens Circuit, East Baltimore District $300; to St. Paul's Church, Hillsboro Circuit, Washington District, $75; to Manassas Church, in same district, additional and conditional appropriation of $50; to Sangersville Church, Bridgewater Circuit, Rockingham District, $100; to Eagle Rock, Botetourt Circuit, Roanoke District, additional appropriation of $100; to Mt. Hope Church, Healing Springs Mission, Lewisburg District, $100; to Alvon Church, Alvon Mission, same District, $100; to Camp-Branch Church, Hardy Circuit, Moorefield District, $75—making a total of absolute and conditional appropriations of $1075.

We call attention to the following action of the Board in regard to the woman's department of this work:

"Whereas, The urgent need of parsonages upon our border territory must be apparent to all who are familiar with this portion of our work,

"And whereas, The General Conference instituted the Woman's Department of Church Extension to meet this exigency, and our Conference has not hitherto manifested an active interest in this important part of our work—

"Therefore, Resolved, That the presiding elders be requested to bring this subject before the several District Conferences, and institute measures by which this important interest can be more successfully prosecuted."

The following resolution was also adopted by the Board:

Resolved, That any congregation within the bounds of our Conference territory, proposing to begin the erection of a house of worship on or after the first day of May, 1889, and to apply for aid to this Board, if they shall not have already adopted one of the plans in our catalogue of designs, be requested to submit the plan of the proposed building to the president of the Board and a sub-committee appointed by him, for approval and suggestion.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON PUBLISHING INTERESTS.

Your committee respectfully submit the following report:

1st. From the statement of the Rev. J. D. Barbee, D. D., agent of our Publishing House at Nashville, submitted April 1st, 1888, we learn with pleasure that the House is now in condition to declare a dividend to the claimants specified in the sixth restrictive rule of our Discipline—and that the book committee have appropriated five thousand dollars of the proceeds of the House for that purpose. Also, that of the outstanding bonds to the amount of $68,400 on April 1st, 1887, there have been paid and cancelled by the book agent during the past year, $52,700, leaving outstanding April 1st, 1888, $15,700, against which there is a sinking fund, invested in interest-bearing securities of $14,695, and $10,656.90 cash in bank.

2d. And we are gratified further to state that the book committee have directed certain expenditures to be made to increase the facilities of the Publishing House for its business, and to improve its literature; also, that $1,200 have been appropriated to be expended by the Sunday School Editor for the improvement of the literature of this department; and in this connection it is a pleasing statement of the agent that everything in the Sunday School department is popular and prosperous. Your committee, nevertheless, while they regard the prices of a number of the periodicals as reasonable, yet they would respectfully suggest a further reduction in many others, and thus bring the entire literature of this department within reach of the whole Church.

3d. Your committee greatly regret the long delay that attends the appearance of the revised Hymn Book, and that the Committee of Revision have been so delayed and hindered in their work. We trust, however, that the assurances now given will be realized, and that the Hymn Book will be published at no distant day.

4th. We fully approve the action of the book committee in directing the agent to procure a press adapted to the purpose of enlarging the size of the "Christian Advocate," the general organ of the Church, published at Nashville, and thus increase its facilities for imparting general information of the progress and work of every interest of the Church. And being the only weekly periodical authorized by the General Conference, ought, therefore, to be in every Methodist family.

5th. The "Southern Methodist Review," under the excellent management of Rev. Wm. P. Harrison, D. D., is reported to be enlarging its patronage and usefuluess, and we heartily commend it to all our ministers and people.

6th. Your committee have no hesitation in saying that, as a local organ, they regard the "Episcopal Methodist" as almost indispensable to our Conference, and fully approve its present able management; and we urge upon our preachers the necessity of personal effort to secure for this excellent paper an increased circulation among our people.

7th We further request the re-appointment of Rev. Wm. K. Boyle, D. D., as editor.

COLPORTAGE.

Your committee, recognizing the great importance of some uniform system of colportage, looking to the circulation of our literature within the territory of our Conference; and believing the appointment of a member of this body to the superintendency of this work, who, by securing the counsel and cooperation of the Presiding Elders and the District Conferences, may be able to originate and inaugurate such a system as will ensure the general circulation of our books, periodicals and other Church literature.

We, therefore, beg leave to recommend the adoption of the following:

Resolved, That the President of this Conference be respectfully requested to appoint the Rev. A. A. P. Neel to the Superintendency of Colportage within our Conference bounds.

Respectfully submitted,

J. C. DICE, Chairman

JOHN P. HYDE, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON TEMPERANCE.

Your Committee on the subject of Temperance, beg leave to report as follows;

We are still convinced that the use of alcoholic stimulants as a beverage is the most fruitful source of crime, wretchedness and pauperism, as well as one of the strongest foes to everything that is honest, pure and good; and we would, therefore, offer the following resolutions:

1st. That we most heartily approve the action of our last General Conference on this subject and the Chapter in the Discipline which recognizes the manufacture of spirituous liquors as an immorality, except for mechanical, medicinal and scientific purposes, as well as the selling and use of the same, save in cases of necessity.

2d. Believing the saloon to be the greatest enemy of society and religion's progress and the nursery of an evil forbidden in the Word of God, we will rejoice to see the day when, through the influence and power of the Gospel and through the passage and enforcement of wise and wholesome laws, this evil shall be utterly extirpated.

3d. That we will continue to pray and to preach against the evil of intemperance, and to do all we can, consistently as christian men and ministers, to hasten the overthrow of the rum power.

ON DISTRICT CONFERENCE RECORDS.

We, your Committee on District Conference Records, respectfully report that: We met in the basement of this church, at 3 o'clock, P. M., of the first day of your session. We effected an organization by the election of W. G. Hammond, Chairman, and Q. A. Wheat, Secretary.

We considered that we had not been created for the purpose of censoriousness or hypercriticism, but in order that the results of our work should conduce to the improvement of the journalism of our District Conferences. Therefore, before the examination of any record, we determined the essentials of good journalistic work to be, from lesser to greater,

- 1. A book of durable material and binding, and of suitable form for the preservation of the records.
- 2. The skill with which the entries are made, embracing legible penmanship, running head-lining, proper paragraphing and general neatness.
- 3. Precision in entry, viz: places and dates of meeting; the order of opening; comprehensiveness and clearness of business facts; the conditions and order of adjournment of each daily session; and the proper attestation by official signatures of the President and Secretary.

We are aware of the self-denying, arduous and faithful labors of these District Conference Secretaries and their assistants, frequently working without definite rule or helpful suggestion; for which reason, your committee decided to be as lenient in their criticisms on any possible departure, in detail, from perfect work, as the circumstances would admit; and we proceeded to our work of the examination of the records of the several Districts, meeting from time to time for the proper discharge of our duty; and we have reached the following result:

The books of all the Districts were before us, and all found to have been properly signed.

We specify:

Baltimore District—A proper book; general execution, good; record not sufficiently full.

East Baltimore District—The book worn and unsubstantial, a new book is needed; penmanship legible; record is full.

Washington District—A perfect journal.

Rockingham District—The book is new, substantial and suitable for the work; execution neat and plain; records are full.

Winchester District-A model book in every respect.

Roanoke District—The book is a suitable one; it is well kept in form and marginal references; it is an insufficient record of the proceedings.

Lewisburg District—The book is a good and suitable one; its work is notably fine in execution; it should enter more in detail reports from the charges.

Moorefield District—The book is a suitable one in every respect; the work has been evidently in two hands, the first a little careless; the record is to be specially commended for its historic elaborateness.

We note generally:

- 1. The presiding officer of a District Conference is accountable for the proper signature of the journal.
- 2. The Secretary-in-chief is responsible for the details and general comprehensiveness of the record.
- 3. That the reputation of a Secretary-in-chief is largely in the hands of his assistant or copyist; and that, whether by election or appointment, these officials should be equally capable.

Respectfully submitted,

W. G. HAMMOND, Q. A. WHEAT,

R. H. WILSON,

Committee.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON THE BIBLE CAUSE.

We, your Committee on the Bible Cause, beg leave to submit the following report:

Believing that the Scriptures are the sufficient and only rule of faith and practice, and that they contain all things necessary to be known in order to salvation, and that a personal knowledge of their contents is essential to the becoming and continuing a christian, therefore—

Resolved, 1. That, as preachers of the Gospel, we seek to ascertain to what extent the people to whom we preach the Word are supplied with the Holy Scriptures.

Resolved, 2. That, as far as possible, we will endeavor to supply the people with the Bible by putting, at least, a copy in each house.

Resolved, 3. That we are in hearty sympathy with the work of "The American Bible Society," and shall endeavor, as far as practicable, to lift collections in each of our charges, to aid that Society in its work.

D. FRANK EUTSLER, Chairman.

G. Dorsey White, Secretary.

The following resolution was adopted by the Board:

Resolved, That as we frequently lack information in reference to claimants on the Board, that we call the attention of preachers in charge, to make a written report of the condition of claimants in their respective pastoral charges as required by the Discipline, (paragraph 65, answer 17,) and that their statements be specific as to property owned, income from property, business, &c., as well as the needs of claimants.

REPORT OF THE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY, BALTIMORE CONFERENCE.

To the Bishop and Members of the Baltimore Annual Conference of the M. E. Church, South.

Dear Fathers and Brethren:

It would seem that a year's labor in any christian work would furnish results worthy the writing and the reading, yet, these annual reviews of the Woman's Missionary Society present so much similarity, that in many respects the record is but a duplicate of previous years. The difficulties, failures, successes and achievements, according to human calculation, differ so little, that faith and courage would often falter if dependent upon outward signs.

With pleasure, however, we note the continued increase in statistics, since the furtherance of every effort in the foreign field depends so much upon these tangible results in the home land.

The ill-health of Miss Baker rendered her resignation as Treasurer necessary last fall. This was a loss keenly felt; for so far as human agency is concerned she was the main spring of our Conference Society. Her untiring zeal and love for the cause, and invaluable service as an officer, is well known to most, if not all, of our Brethren of the Ministry. We sadly miss her active labors, and pray the Father to long spare her still useful life. The Society was fortunate in securing such an efficient Treasurer as Miss Virginia Massie, who was elected last October at the annual meeting which convened in Front Royal, Virginia.

From every mission field, especially from the pen of Mrs. Wilson, the Bishop's wife, come messages of cheer and encouragement to gladden our hearts, intensify our zeal, and stir us up to renewed diligence and faithfulness. As light comes, prejudice and skepticism melt away; hence, other christian women are slowly merging into active service. A membership of 1,662 (adult), falls so far below the church membership of our Conference, that it is evident much prayerful, patient, persistent effort will be required to reach those not yet engaged in the work.

To this end we invoke your blessing and continued aid, recognizing as the basis of our success the inspiration and assistance of the Holy Spirit.

MRS. F. E. BOND,

Cor. Sec'y, W. M. S.

Whereas, Many of our congregations in said State are adopting Articles of Incorporation which are not in accordance with the rules and regulations in such cases made and set forth in the Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South; and,

OUR SUNDAY-SCHOOL PERIODICALS,

EDITED BY

REV. W. G. E. CUNNYNGHAM, D. D.

Our Sunday-school periodicals should be used in all our school
--

They are authorized by the General Conference, prepared by our Editor; published by our House for the especial use and benefit of our people.

They are adapted to our wants, and should not be substituted by any other. Preachers, Sunday-school officers, and all others interested in the furtherance of Southern Methodism, SEE TO IT that no undenominational or impure literature is used in our schools!

In matter and style it is equal to the best, and is cheaper than any other of equal grade.

All the moral and religious reasons that call for Methodist preachers in Methodist pulpits call for Methodist literature, in Methodist schools. Write for specimen copies.

The Sunday-School Magazine. A fifty-page monthly of acknowledged excellence, for the use of officers, teachers, and older scholars. With full exposition of the International Lesson Texts; every number contains valuable hints as to the facts, principles, objects, methods, and capabilities of Sunday-school work. No publication of equal merit is furnished at a less price. Think of it, 600 pages yearly, postage paid, for the small sum of 50 cents.

The Senior Quarterly. A thirty-six page pamphlet devoted to lesson helps for scholars in advanced classes. Its value is enhanced by the introduction of appropriate forms for opening and closing exercises, hymns and tunes, maps, dictionary of proper names, etc.

The Intermediate Quarterly. Similiar to the above, but with such necessary changes as adapt it to the wants of scholars in the main school. It is marvelously cheap

The Illustrated Lesson Paper is a four-page weekly, designed for younger scholars who have outgrown the infant class, but who retain their fondness for pictures and simple stories. 208 pages a year.

Our Little People is a beautiful lesson sheet, four-pages handsomely illustrated and printed on tinted paper; for primiary or infant scholars. Each number contains, besides the lesson, a page or more of "baby-land" talk.

The Sunday-School Visitor, an excellent paper for the Sunday-school or the fireside, beautifully illustrated, published in three editions.

Weekly—Four papers each month. Semi-monthly—Two papers each month.

How to Remit: Send by Post-office Money-order, Bank Check, Express or Registered letter. Money sent in other ways will be at the risk of the person sending it.

Do not order from the Editor, but send all business communications to

The Piano and Organ House of Sanders & Stayman is too well known to need any extended notice. It has been established nearly a quarter of a century, and has grown from small beginnings to be one of the recognized leading houses of the United States, handling the most celebrated makes of Pianos and Organs, with a constantly-increasing patronage, keeping pace with their growing facilities. The first year of their business career they sold only 20 Estey Organs; they expect, however, to sell

Their sales of the eber, Decker Bros., Estey and Fischer Pianos are constantly the increase, with the prospects of a much larger sale this year than er before. Messrs. Sanders and Stayman are proprietors of three ktensive warerooms, situated at 13 North Charles, Baltimore, Md.; 334 F Street. N. W., Washington, D.
